Step 1: Type python in google and click on the first link

Step 2: Click on python 3.9.8

The screenshot shows the Python.org website's download page for Python 3.9.8. The browser address bar shows 'python.org/downloads/'. The page has a navigation bar with links for 2.7, end-of-life, 2010-07-03, 2020-01-01, and PEP 373. Below the navigation bar, there is a section titled 'Looking for a specific release?' with the text 'Python releases by version number:'. This is followed by a table listing various Python releases. The table has four columns: 'Release version', 'Release date', 'Download', and 'Click for more'. The table lists releases from Python 3.10.1 down to Python 3.9.7. The 'Download' column contains a download icon and the word 'Download'. The 'Click for more' column contains a link to 'Release Notes'. Below the table, there is a link 'View older releases'. At the bottom of the page, there is a 'Sponsors' section. The browser's taskbar at the bottom shows the Windows logo, a search bar, and several application icons. The system clock shows 11:23 on 25-10-2022.
